

You absolutely do not have my support in implementing any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. My "quality time" at home has improved DRAMATICALLY since this law has been enacted. I am confident in estimating the number of calls received weekly before the law was passed at 8-10. Now it is literally 0. My phone service is for my chosen use(s) and should not be made a public avenue for sales people to interrupt my time at home. I purchase a significant amount of merchandise over the internet and a phone number is always required. Under your proposal this would classify us as an "existing customer" (which we are) but this should not give carte blanc access to me over my telephone.

Thank you for your attention to this message. It is my sincere hope that working together, we can ensure the success of our state's Telephone Privacy program for many years to come.

Sincerely,
Tim Denihan
